

It is not right to allow the National Association of Broadcasters to dictate what I listen to on my radio. In America, where we are supposed to have a free market, anyone should be allowed to provide traffic information, music, or whatever in hopes to attract customers. XM Radio has certainly attracted customers and the broadcasters are simply 'running scared.' Instead of offering a better product, they want to use Washington to limit the free market by limiting what their competitors are 'allowed' to offer.

I urge you to reject NAB's petition 01-160!

Sincerely,
Michael Todd
